Thanks Amy,

The Corps of Engineers will be conducting an independent evaluation of the San Jacinto alternatives. We recently received their estimated schedule and it appears that they will need 6 to 9 months to conduct their evaluation (which includes extensive modeling).

So it appears that we will have to move the San Jacinto review to the July 2015 date. We will check back in the Spring of 2015 and see if we need to make any more changes to the schedule. CAS
